

UB-04 Data Specifications Manual

A subscription to a printable electronic version of the UB-04 Data Specifications Manual is available from the NUBC; we do not provide hard copies. This subscription entitles you to access additional Subscribers Only Documents posted on the NUBC web site.

The UB-04 Manual subscription is licensed to single user. This limited license allows a single user licensee to print off one hard copy; redistribution of the electronic file and additional print copies is prohibited.

However, subscribers that order the equivalent of 5 manuals have the opportunity to sign a site license agreement permitting them to make additional copies and to make the electronic file viewable to others at that (single) location. The site license requires additional documentation; please contact Todd Omundson at tomundson@aha.org for further information about obtaining a site license.

To place an order, fill in the information below and then submit a printed version of this Word document. Please no handwritten forms. A separate order form is required for each subscriber. An illegible or incorrect e-mail address will result in a processing delay. All fields are required. Upon receipt of your payment, we will e-mail you instructions on how to register and access/download the manual.

Indicate with an "X" below the type of subscription you desire.
